Congregational Openings

Chapel Hill Mennonite Fellowship is seeking a full time pastor. For more information go to <https://chapelhillmennonite.org/pastoral-job-description/>. To apply, contact Doug Luginbill, Conference Minister at confmin@mcusacdc.org.

Community Mennonite, Markham, Illinois is seeking a half-time pastor. We are located in the south suburbs of Chicago. We follow God by way of Jesus. We believe in peaceful and non-violent solutions to violence. We hold to the Anabaptist theology and doctrine. We support one another through welcoming and honoring the gifts of all people in the congregation. With times of thoughtful worship, upholding each other in intellectual integrity and support of each other as we go through this journey together. What we would like to find is a pastor who is nurturing and able to help us grow in Christ, each of us individually and collectively.

Some of the expectations:

- *Sunday morning worship service – preparing and providing the message, coordinating with the worship lead for the rest of the service (prayers, hymns, communion, etc.)

- *Providing pastoral service to congregational members in need (visiting shut-ins, following up with individuals/families in crisis, etc.)

- *Baptisms, membership classes, weddings, funerals, and discipling

Let's see how the Spirit's call would best fit your gifts to the expectations of Community Mennonite Church.

Emmanuel Mennonite Church in Gainesville, Florida is seeking a full-time pastor. We are a multicultural church who welcomes all who desire to worship and work with us. Our outreach includes supporting justice and immigration reform, migrant health care, and care for the homeless. Please contact Central District Conference Minister, Doug Luginbill at confmin@mcusacdc.org for more information.

Faith Mennonite Church

Faith Mennonite Church, Goshen, Indiana, seeks a flexible, creative, and empathetic co-pastor (½ time). Faith's core values include hospitality, inclusion, care for the earth, working for justice and peace locally and globally while growing as people committed to dismantling racism and sexism and striving to be Christ-centered in word and deed. As such, Faith hosts a weekly congregational meal and maintains two transitional houses for members of the local community who are in need. Because of the diversity of needs in the congregation, the job duties associated with the position are also diverse and include worship planning, preaching, and active participation of Faith's community ministries. In particular, Faith is seeking a candidate who is interested in the spiritual formation (from an Anabaptist tradition) of our children and youth. Please see the job description for more details.
